Harbor Operations Notice

Later fee notice

The Harbor Operations Notice is a fictional later notice about recorder returns. It states a daily late-return fee of three credits for a portable recorder. The earlier Harbor Research Room Handbook states two credits. The two texts conflict about the fee, and this fixture intentionally does not establish which document has legal authority. A faithful answer must identify the disagreement instead of silently selecting one number.

Repair desk

The Harbor repair desk accepts equipment on Tuesday and Thursday between 10:00 and 12:00. Report a broken recorder to reception and do not attempt a repair yourself. A repair intake receipt records the recorder label and the reported symptom. There is no repair charge schedule in this notice. The desk hours are narrower than the general room opening hours.

Return receipt

Every recorder return receives a receipt bearing the recorder label and return date. The visitor keeps the receipt until the loan record is closed. The operations notice does not change the seven-calendar-day loan period or the limit of two recorders. This notice supplies no instructions for paying in a national currency, and the credits mentioned on page one are fictional.
